9 In regard to A, it may be noted that there are officers whose services were sent to the Municipality which by the Public Health Department would be against a recognized principle to grant him a reward, although he might have resolved to do so. They opinion is, after all, expected to put forth his best in the discharge of the duties pertaining to his office and it would not be right to encourage the grant of "rewards". If this view is accepted, the proposal may have to be vetoed.

The question does not arise, as he has been transferred from out of this city.

Any precedents in favour of such Grants of "Rewards"? Any S.O. or Standing order against it?

= No precedents are traceable in favour of such grant of "Rewards" under Para 269 of the Rules for the Conduct of Govt. Servants, an Officer is prohibited from accepting gifts

Kind reference is invited to Treasury 217 to 272 of the rules for the conduct of Govt servants. These apply to the case where the Govt offer such gifts to a Govt servant and do not cover cases where a Govt servant is offered reward for services rendered by him in his official capacity from departmental funds (such case it is a local body)
There are no precedents available for the Govt powers concerned.
